PREFACE

The idea behind this effort can be traced back to the induction of Professor Dr. Khurram Qadir who took the charge as Director National Institute of Historical and Cultural Research, Centre of Excellence, Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad on February 11, 2008. It is actually his first effort to float the idea to compile a directory of writers who are in one way or the other engaged in writing the history and culture of Pakistan. Indeed a remarkable number of writers and researchers who have been conducting research on different aspects of history and cultural of Pakistan, are still not known to the society as such. Besides those who have contributed to the original knowledge in respect of writing in history and culture, there are also scholars who are currently conducting their research on different important aspects of history and culture, are also part of this compiled work.

The scheme of the National Institute of Historical and Cultural Research among other is to coordinate the research activities of the scholars and researchers for the general benefits of the related individual and institutions. NIHCR since 2008 is engaged in the field of social sciences focusing particularly on the historical and cultural parts of it in order to build research capacity and infrastructure to ensure that research in the field of social sciences is equally important like research in the other fields of knowledge.

The directory in hand provides the biodata of about seven hundred scholars with an alphabetical order. The relevant information about each scholar with a systematic order has been given such as the name of the scholar, his or her field of interest, place where he or she is working, email and postal addresses and contact numbers. It will provide an easy access to the relevant scholar without any wastage of time. The Institute has a firm intention to publish it annually for the sake of updating the information compiled.

FOREWORD

Perhaps the greatest disadvantage that I felt on becoming Director NIHCR was a lack of knowledge of the community that I was to serve in my official capacity. Being a bit of a recluse my personal contacts were limited while the NIHCR needed to have an extensive network of contacts with researchers in history and culture. As a consequence I requested my colleagues to assist me in preparing a directory of researchers in the Social Sciences and we set for ourselves a preliminary target of one year. I was to learn that the data bases of the NIHCR was not adequate and my youthful colleagues were encountering several difficulties in obtaining data. Mr. Altaf Ullah being an energetic and cooperative colleague undertook the task of spearheading the effort. Mr. Shaheryar Khan (Research Assistant) provided able support and Mr. Qaisar Mahmood composed the matter. In December 2008 we decided to launch an initiative of contacting researchers in the social sciences in public sector universities. The list of names given in the present volume numbering 771 were mainly collected due to our efforts during the year 2009 when a series of symposia was conducted for acquiring this data along with other academic plans of the NIHCR.

The task of composing and printing the information we collected has again taken more than a year. This was partly due to the fact that as a template the form of our directory needed to be refined for which we obtained the views of some of the people represented here and partly because the field of interest and other data need to be reconfirmed. We have decided to publish what we have been able to ascertain because the task has already been delayed too long. Though the informations in many cases are incomplete.

We apologise for any errors and omissions and request all those who believe that their names should be included here to give us a feedback so that we can correct the information. Simultaneously we have put all this information on the Web (see website of NIHCR) to facilitate access and corrections. Kindly also give us any additional names that you would like us to include in the directory. You will also find on our website a list of authors of articles on Pakistan published in selected journals (HEC Recognised) since 2000 being published in Pakistan. We would like that all of those who are alive today should be included in a more comprehensive directory. For that purpose we would appreciate the information relevant to the directory which may be accessed either from the information included in our directory or from the Form (also available on our website) which may be downloaded and filled so that we can include them in our permanent data base.

We hope that this brief volume will be useful in itself as well and will provide the seeds of a community-building exercise for all researchers who can contribute to and benefit from the academic activities of the NIHCR.

Dr. Khurram Qadir
Director
